Please join other CEOs, business owners and key executives in a valuable and synergistic event as we learn from some of America's leading experts on the very important issue of how business leaders can express their religious beliefs and incorporate moral principles in their workplace, while respecting legal guidelines. We will address such topics as:

- Protections in the private sector
- Expression of faith culture in the workplace
- Risks
- Making religion an issue in the hiring process
- Cybervetting benefits and risks
- Avoiding liability for making religion an issue in the discharge context

In addition to these topics you will:

- Learn about the one benefit your employees will actually thank you for that will also help you build an incredible corporate culture
- Discover a proven "faith based" model that hundreds of companies have leveraged that reduces turnover, increases loyalty and has virtually zero liability
- Learn how companies across America are dealing with religious discrimination cases leveraging a completely complimentary service
- Discover the keys to establishing "faith based" policies in your company without legal exposure

There will also be a panel discussing how professionals have successfully integrated their faith into their organizations.
